FE06/02/26	2030 Strategy – Update on Progress
	Commercially Sensitive – Confidential 5 years
FE07/02/26	Confidential - redacted
FE08/2/26	External Landscape
	New Ofsted Framework <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ 19 providers inspections published post-Christmas, mainly small, independent providers ○ School examples ○ Awaiting Gloucestershire and Yeovil College reports ○ Reminder – secure fit rather than best fit, most colleges are gearing to get ‘expected standard’ ○ Increased ad hoc data demands ○ Planning calls are key ○ Case sampling will provide significant evidence base ○ Serious complaints – review (as before) ○ FESIT and inclusivity data ○ A good college that was inspected in 2022 was inspected again in 2024 – no risk triggers ○ Kate Murrie training for governors ○ Governor briefing sheet ○ Our further reflections on grading & our current risk areas
	Governors discussed the current grading and queried whether the cost of targeting exceptional was of sufficient benefit, recognising the key issue was the student experience. The College Principal confirmed this remained at the heart of Hartpury’s focus, and commented that we were targeting making a transformational difference. The work being done to support inclusion was highlighted, it was recognised that there was a resource implication in accessing additional data which was being built in.
	Governors agreed it was important to challenge for best possible performance.
	T’level Update
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Student feedback – Agriculture – mixed and improving • Student feedback – Animal – positive • Student attendance – positive • Agriculture OS exams – Crops – going well, Ag Engineering, challenging • Middle Year Placement – Agriculture – all retained to date expect 1 (during placement year). • DfE / C&G visit – very supportive, opportunity to shape Governors noted the developing areas and the areas of strong performance. The positive introduction of Animal T’levels to date was highlighted.
	Technical Excellence Colleges (TEC) were outlined: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❑ work with employers, representative bodies, trade unions, strategic authorities, and local government to provide people with better training and job opportunities, and to provide the highly trained workforce that local economies need.

APPROVED

		Action & Action Date
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❑ existing colleges that are awarded 'technical excellence status' to recognise deep specialisms in priority skills areas. ❑ Each TEC will be a hub of excellence in a specific sector, with advanced facilities and resources, including expert staff, cutting-edge course materials, and strong employer and industry partnerships. ❑ Colleges appointed as TECs will support other providers that deliver provision in their sector, so that the opportunities and benefits that TECs create are spread across regions and learners. Hartpury was proposing to work with Gloucestershire College in relation to agri tec cyber within a wider cyber TEC. Feedback on this was awaited from the DfE.
	The College Board NOTED the External Landscape Update.
FE09/02/26	Accountability Statement Update
	Noted that work on this was continuing to progress.
	The Accountability Statement Update was NOTED.
